737NG and 747 DIGITAL CLOCK REPLICA

The 737CLK V.1.0 is a replica of the clock mounted on the BOEING 737NG cockpit. Shape, colors and button functionalities are exact reproduction of the original clock found on the latest 737 flight deck. Thanks to its real size, shape and full functionalities, this module has been developed for hobby pilot who wants to increase reality of their simulated flight desk. Its features and Characteristics are show at my web site and from January 24, 2015 is also available the 747Digital Clock replica model.
